Dr. Damien Delvaux is Structural Geologist and Consultant at the Royal Museum for central Africa in Belgium, working on geodynamics of intracontinental rift systems, sedimentary basins and orogens, with emphasis on brittle structural evolution, active tectonics, sismotectonics and petroleum systems, currently in East and Central Africa.

Professional skills

- Structural geology, neotectonics, paleoseismology, remote sensing, digital terrain modelling, GIS, GPS geodesy, petroleum geology...
- Field experience in Cenozoic rift zones and sedimentary basins (East African, Dead Sea, Baikal), Precambrian mobile belts (East Africa, Baikal areas), fold-and-thrust belts (North Variscan front, Lufilian Arc in Katanga), active mountain belts (Altai and Tien-Shan mountains), passive margins (West-Congo) and intracratonic basins (Congo Basin)
- Project management in Central & East Africa (DRC, Tanzania...), Central Asia (Russia, Kyrgyzstan, Kazakhstan, W-China), and Middle East (Jordan)
- Geological advising in mining and petroleum exploration
- Language (by order of knowledge): French English, Netherlands, Russian, Kiswahili

Professional experience

01/2004 -	Senior geologist – Royal Museum for central Africa and Consultant
From 04/2002 to 12/2003	Consultant:
08/2001 - 03/2002	IT Project Manager - Atos Origin S.A. (software company)
03/2001 - 07/2001	Invited Research Fellow – University of Amsterdam
08/1989 - 02/2001	Senior geologist – Royal Museum for central Africa
08/1987 – 07/1989	Assistant geologist - Université Catholique de Louvain
06/1986 – 07/1987	Military service (as reserve officer)
06/1982 – 05/1986	Petroleum geochemist - Petrofina research center (4 years contract)
04/1981 – 05/1982	Field geologist - Ministry of National Education of Belgium

Knowledge and education

10/1988	Ph.D. in Geology – Mineralogy – UCL, Belgium / Petrofina,S.A.)
1976-1980	Ms.C. in Geology - Mineralogy – UCL, Belgium

Awards

- FNR Award for Outstanding Scientific Publication (Luxemburg, 2009)
- 50th anniversary award of the Belgian Petroleum Institute (Brussels, 1991)
- Travel Grant of the Belgian Ministry of National Education (1982)
- Paul Fourmarier Award (Liège, 1981),

Professional activities

- Member of the editorial board of the Journal of African Earth Sciences since 2001
- Invited editor for several special issues of international scientific journals
- Leader of UNESCO/IUGS IGCP 400 project “Geodynamics of Continental rifting” (1996-2000)
- Coordinator for various research projects in Central Asia and Africa.
- Organisation of scientific conferences
- Co-Promotor of Ph.D projects
- Organisation of international summer field courses on structural geology and neotectonics
